Approved by the Governor April 25, 1888. Passed, three-fifths being present. The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows: Section 1. The Secretary of State is directed to republish, verbatim, preserving the original spelling and punctuation, the Session Laws of the Colony of New York, passed during the years seventeen hundred and seventy-four and seventeen hundred and seventy-five. 2. The re-publication shall be in one octavo volume, with an index and of a material equal in size and quality to the Session Laws of eighteen hundred and eighty-seven. 3. The edition shall consist of one thousand copies and shall be distributed as follows: Two copies to each judicial district library; one copy to the clerks office of each county; one copy to each justice of the Supreme Court, and each judge of the Court of Appeals; two copies to each legislative library, and one to each State department; two hundred copies to the trustees of the State library, for literary and scientific exchanges, and one to each member of the Legislature. The remainder shall be delivered to the trustees of the State library, and such trustees shall reserve sufficient copies for the future use of the State, and in their discretion sell the balance at a price to be fixed by them, and pay the proceeds into the treasury of the State. 4....
