Its presentation to the public is with the hope that teachers of natural history, especially those of our own State, may in it find something to commend itself to them; and that much of this work which at present must be done by the University, may in the near future be done, in part at least, by our preparatory schools. The importance of the study of zoology in High Schools, Academies, and Colleges is gradually being recognized; but in too many cases it still stands back in comparison with other branches of natural history, as that of botany. One of several reasons for this is no doubt to be found in...
