Present: Senators Simon and Thurmond. Opening Statement of Senator Simon Senator Simon. The subcommittee hearing will come to order. We are having a hearing today on S. 984, the Privacy for Consumers and Workers Act. What we aim to do is to protect the privacy of people at workplaces, as well as consumers, and do it in a way that will not inhibit and harm businesses. And we think that can be done. We have had a number of constructive recommendations related to the bill as it was originally introduced in the last session of Congress. They have been included in this legislation. It is very easy in a world of increasing technology to give away basic rights of privacy that are implied in the Constitution. The phrase, the right of privacy, is not used in the Constitution, but when the Constitution was written, they said, as they wrote it in 1787, that you couldn't be forced to have troops quartered in your home. They said you couldn't invade your home unless you had a very specific search warrant. And then the Ninth Amendment was written by James Madison when he wrote the Bill of Rights. He sent a rough draft of...
