Irrespective of whether or not the contemplated tariff becomes a law, we favor a few months accumulations. Since the low point in July 1921, pig iron production has increased 1 68 percent or from 864,642 tons last July to 2,309,348 tons in May. Should the daily rate of production in May be maintained for the balance of this year, production will amount to 25,532,000 tons. This amount is practically indential with the nine year average 1907 to 1915 inclusive, which amounted to 25,400,000 tons, but is 4 /2 million tons below the five year average 1916 to 1920 inclusive, which aver Steel ingot production since July of last year has shown, a steady increase and May production was 237 percent above July. If the daily rate of production in May were...
